Senior Scientist & Independent Democratic Presidential Candidate Harry Braun Recommends Ending The Multi-Trillion Dollar Oil Wars Immediately!

Oil corporations use the U.S. Armed Forces and military intelligence assets to install repressive governments worldwide who will allow them to extract fossil fuels and minerals, leaving hundreds of millions of indigenous people in poverty in a contaminated wasteland.

Hillary Clinton, Lindsay Graham and Marco Rubio all consider themselves to be experts on U.S. foreign policy proclaimed that removing Saddam was the right thing to do, in spite of the catastrophic chaos that the war unleashed in the Middle East and now Europe. These so-called experts are obviously unaware that Saddam Hussein's Baath party was put into power by the United States CIA during the Kennedy Administration, which was revealed to the American public 30 years later in a page one story in The New York Times on March 14, 2003.

American president's talk about supporting democracy abroad, but since the Oil Age began, U.S. governments lead by both Democrats and Republicans supported brutal and undemocratic regimes worldwide for oil and other multinational corporate interests, in countries such as Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Egypt, Iran, Vietnam, Chile, Indonesia, the Congo, the Philippines, Pakistan, and Iraq – to name a few. According to disclosures by the U.S. Senate Committee on Intelligence, the CIA provided lists of hundreds of suspected communists and leftists to the anti-communist Baathists, who then proceeded to murder them. Many of the people killed were Iraq's highly educated elite, including doctors, lawyers, scientists and other political and military professionals. Britain and Israel supported the coup, while France and Germany opposed the action.

As a result of the coup, Saddam became a loyal U.S. ally to president's Kennedy, Johnson, Nixon, Ford, Carter, and Reagan, while he established the only secular country in the Arab Middle East, which allowed complete freedom of religion for Jews and Christians, while allowing woman to have absolutely equal rights as men in all aspects of Iraq's society and law. The U.S. supported Saddam in his war against Iran, including providing Iraq with toxic chemical weapons. And before Saddam invaded Kuwait, he first met with the U.S. Ambassador April Glaspie and James Baker to discuss his intentions to reclaim the former Iraqi land that was then owned by Kuwait. The New York Times (23 Sept 1990) documented Glaspie provided the following message to Saddam:

"We have no opinion on the Arab-Arab conflicts, like your border disagreement with Kuwait. I was in the American Embassy in Kuwait during the late 1960s. The instruction we had during this period was that we should express no opinion on this issue and that the issue is not associated with America. James Baker has directed our official spokesmen to emphasize this instruction. We hope you can solve this problem using any suitable methods via Klibi (Chedli Klibi), Secretary General of the Arab League) or via President Mubarak. All that we hope is that these issues are solved quickly."

Thus Saddam was given the green light to invade Kuwait, yet for some unknown reason, president George H.W. Bush did not get the memo. The result was the first Iraq War killed untold thousands of innocent Iraqi soldiers and civilians who were defending their country, and this chaos is now evolving into World War III. But no one mentions that the only U.S. national security interest in Iraq and the Middle East is oil and other fossil fuels, which the National Academy of Sciences has testified to Congress are rapidly making the Earth uninhabitable from the chemical contamination and climate change superstorm chaos that is now destroying food production systems worldwide.

Thus rather than nation building, the Bush/Cheney administration used false intelligence to destroy Iraq by spending approximately $2.5 trillion of U.S. taxpayers money to attack and kill Saddam Hussein and his family by dropping over 265,000 uranium-tipped bombs and munitions, which have a 4.5 billion year half-life, on the Cradle of Civilization from 1991 to 2012. Moreover, an additional $6 trillion is also going to be spent on the wounded U.S. soldiers who survived.

According to a CBS News 60 minutes report on Dick Cheney's 30-year career prior to the Iraq War, when Cheney was moving between being the CEO of Halliburton and the holding some of the highest offices in the Pentagon. Thus he secured secret, no bid, cost-plus contracts with the Department of Defense for Halliburton -- and all he needed was a war. Chris Matthews on MSNBC reported that after the election of the Bush/Cheney administration, but before they were actually sworn in, Cheney contacted the Defense Department requesting detailed information on only one country, and that country was Iraq -- which was long before 9/11. But 9/11 was used as the excuse for Cheney's war, even though the hijackers were from Saudi Arabia and not Iraq.

As such, Iraq and the Cradle of Civilization was destroyed for the profits of Dick Cheney and Halliburton, and Halliburton is still very much involved in the Oil Wars now underway in the Middle East and Ukraine. Yet after the Iraq war, The New York Times reported that most of Iraq's oil in Southern Iraq went to China, which dropped no bombs. And the only lease that was provided to a U.S. oil company in the Northern Kurdistan region of Iraq was provided to Hunt Oil, a relatively small Texas oil company that was a major financial backer of George W. Bush, which then sold the lease to ExxonMobil and its fracking partner Halliburton.

In addition to the trillions spend on the Oil Wars, Princeton and Harvard University studies have documented that oil company lobbyists also secured well over $10 trillion from American taxpayers for oil tanker protection services since 1970. This is more than twice the cost of building the two million, two-megawatt wind-powered hydrogen production systems that would permanently displace all of the oil and other fossil and nuclear fuels, chemicals and products now used in the USA by making hydrogen from water with electricity.

Marco Rubio was interviewed by Wolf Blitzer on CNN when he stated that wind power was useless because it cannot provide fuel for our automobiles and aircraft, which underscores that Rubio is both historically and technically illiterate, since he does not even understand high-school chemistry, whereby electricity from the wind can create carbon-free hydrogen fuel from water. This production of "electrolytic" hydrogen was first demonstrated in the UK in the year 1800, long before the Oil Age began, which has now contaminated every man, woman and child in the USA and worldwide, including the unborn who now soak in a witches brew of oil-based poisons from the point of conception, which is causing epidemics of cancer, Autism and Dementia.

The Oil Age was never necessary. It was just highly profitable for the Oil Industrial Complex, which includes the chemical, pharmaceutical, agricultural, banking and news corporations as well as the presidential candidates of both political parties. Indeed, given the hydrogen production and engine technology has been in the public domain for over 200 years, the trillions of dollars spent annually for energy would have gone to the U.S. Treasury instead of private corporations, which would have allowed the USA to become a debt-free country without poisoning its air, water and people.

With the U.S. Dollar backed by renewable hydrogen and not oil, which is rapidly diminishing as more and more people are forced to compete for fewer and fewer resources, the “transition of substance” to a Hydrogen Age by 2020 will profoundly impact all issues related to taxes, domestic and foreign policy, healthcare and immigration.

Every existing vehicle, engine and power plant can be modified to use hydrogen made from the sun, wind and water, which is the only known way to provide “sustainable prosperity without pollution,” by powering indoor “Lifeboat” and larger “Ark” organic food production systems that will be critical for surviving the Oil Age-induced climate change chaos that the National Academy of Sciences has testified is already destroying major food production systems worldwide.

Yet the Obama administration, which does not have the money to maintain U.S. roads and bridges or to keep its only remaining aircraft carrier in the Persian Gulf, recently spent over $500 million to train 5 soldier’s in Syria to fight ISIS. While the recent ISIS attacks in Paris were a direct response to the French bombing ISIS in Syria, all of the other presidential candidates are now calling for another multi-trillion dollar war in the Middle East to drop more radioactive bombs that will only increase the chemical contamination all humans and other animals worldwide.

And as the image below documents, senior level Democrats are financially benefiting from the highly-toxic multinational shale oil and gas fracking corporations as well as the Republicans. Hillary Clinton, as Secretary of State, also worked on behalf of the Clinton Foundation that received over $250 million from oil and equally-toxic uranium corporations worldwide, which allowed Russia to acquire one-fifth of all U.S. uranium reserves, thereby transforming Russia into an international uranium superpower. Hillary’s other major accomplishments as Secretary of State from day one was to promote the highly-toxic practice of contaminating the air, water and people worldwide by establishing the Global Shale Gas Initiative for Exxon, Halliburton and Chevron.

The Islamic State Sunni-led Caliphate, which evolved out of the chaos that was created by the U.S. invasion of Iraq in 2003, represents only a tiny number of the 1.5 billion Sunni Muslims worldwide. But it is well to remember that in the American Revolution, less than three percent of the American people actually fought in the war against the British, and all of our Founding Fathers were called “terrorists” by King George. While beheading someone is certainly barbaric, dropping uranium-tipped 500-pound bombs on unknown individuals in foreign countries is infinitely more barbaric because the radioactive uranium isotopes will be causing disease and death worldwide essentially forever, given they have a half-life of 4.5 billion years.

Uranium-tipped munitions and the deformed children that result from such contamination.

It's easy to drop bombs on people, but it's impossible to repair the catastrophic damage that results from using such “brutal” weapons. The oil company-owned U.S. news media talk nonstop about the brutality of ISIS, but the unjustified invasion of Iraq was vastly more brutal given the radiological munitions that were used.

Such nuclear weapons were developed to penetrate the advanced armor of Russian tanks, but they have been used for most if not all combat missions by the U.S. since 1991 in Serbia and the ongoing wars in Iraq, Syria and Afghanistan. Once the depleted uranium munitions are detonated, the radiological isotopes at the tips are pulverized into nanoparticles, which then not only contaminate the immediate area of the explosion, but many of particles are diffused into the wind and rain worldwide. They have been documented to travel from Iraq to Western Europe in about 10 days. While 150 countries voted to ban uranium weapons in the UN, the USA, UK, Israel and France all voted to veto the measure.

However, the real reason for the renewed air war in Iraq was because ISIS seized the oil wells in Northern Iraq that are leased to Exxon Mobil and Halliburton. Thus the U.S. is now bombing the Islamic State “terrorists,” because these Sunnis were cut-off and left to fend for themselves in a shattered country of chaos that was turned over to their ancient enemy, the Shiites. As a result, the U.S. Air Force now serves the Shiite governments of Iran, Iraq and Syria, who are all fighting the Sunnis who were a faithful U.S. ally for decades, and who represent 90 percent of the Muslims worldwide. Thus except for the financial interests of multinational oil companies, it is absurd for the U.S. government to take sides in this ancient tribal conflict by using its unrivaled air power and satellite intelligence assets to attack and destroy the Sunnis who are the only counter force to the rapidly-expanding Shiite governments throughout the Middle East. And the American taxpayers are left with the trillions of dollars in debt that is destroying the Middle Class, given the value of the U.S. Dollar that is now worth less than 10 cents of its value in 1970.

The Tragic Truth about U.S. Foreign Policy

Critical thinking requires accurate information, yet few Americans are aware that while politicians and news media talk about the U.S. supporting democracy abroad, both Republican and so-called Democratic administrations have supported brutal and undemocratic regimes worldwide. The most recent example is Egypt, where president Obama, who provides $1.3 billion in annual payments to the Egyptian military, obviously agreed to a brutal military coup that replaced a distinguished professor of engineering, Mohammad Morsi (below left) who was educated in the U.S., and won the presidency of Egypt in its first free and fair election, with another brutal dictator, General Abdel Fattah al-Sisi (below right), who then imprisoned Morsi, and is now working to have the former elected president executed. These are the real world “ugly American” policies that explain why so many people in the world are increasingly chanting “Death to America.”

In spite of millions of citizens protesting for over 15 years, the United States Republic, with the support of both political parties, voted to support dictators in Vietnam who allowed the U.S. to kill over three million innocent Vietnamese men, women and children, while injuring and chemically contaminating tens of millions more, because they believed in “communism,” which simply means communal or public ownership of companies or institutions or national resources like oil and gas.

Given the USA is a predominately Christian country, it is odd that no one noticed that such public ownership of resources is what Jesus was teaching in (Matthew 19:24): “Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God.” Indeed, profit was a sin in the Christian Church for over 1,500 years, and according to the Dead Sea Scrolls, Jesus and the Essene community he lived with and learned naturopathic medicine from held all property in common. Thus they were to the left of the economist Karl Marx, who only wanted the profit to be shared with the workers. Nor would Jesus approve of bombing and killing innocent people for oil and other toxic fossil fuels that are making the Earth uninhabitable.

Instead of spending trillions of dollars on more unnecessary Oil Wars, the USA should invest that money on mass-producing the two million wind-powered hydrogen production systems that will displace all oil and other fossil and nuclear fuels in the USA by 2020. Such systems can power “Lifeboat” and larger “Ark” indoor food production systems in every community that will be able to operate in spite of the Oil Age-induced climate-change chaos that is already destroying food production systems worldwide. This 6th Mass Extinction event in the Earth’s history is now almost over, yet the only thing our dysfunctional government can agree on is to drop more bombs for oil, which is clearly a policy of mass-suicide.
